REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art of record, including newly cited Prammer et al. and Kruspe et al. references, fails to teach or suggest, alone or in combination, a measurement-while-drilling apparatus including transmitters/receivers on at least one stabilizer protected by hardfacing on the outer surface of the at least one stabilizer, nor does the prior art teach a method for using such an apparatus as specifically called for in the claims.

References cited by the applicant, including Calvert, Rau, and Gianzero et al., teach downhole tools that are not measurement-while-drilling tools. Particularly, Calvert and Gianzero et al. teach non-drilling well tools having well-engaging pads with electrodes, but no transmitter or receiver. Rau teaches a cable-deployed well logging tool having transmitters/receiver on a well-engaging pad. The Clark et al. references (also cited by applicant) teach a measurement-while-drilling tool having electrodes on the stabilizer, but the transmitter/receiver located on the drill collar. Further, the transmitter does not convey an RF signal into the formation.

Newly cited Prammer et al. and Kruspe et al. references each teach a measurement-while-drilling apparatus having a rotatable collar, at least one stabilizer, at least one transmitter/receiver for conveying RF signals, but not located on the stabilizer. The stabilizers are located above and below the transmitter/receiver and do not have hardfacing on the outer surfaces.

Therefore, none of the cited references alone, or in combination fairly teach or suggest a measurement-while-drilling apparatus including transmitters/receivers on at least one stabilizer protected by hardfacing on the outer surface of the at least one stabilizer

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
